AMY ADAMS STRUNK

CONTROLLING OWNER, CO-CHAIRMAN BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Amy Adams Strunk assumed the role of controlling owner of the team in March 2015. She also serves as the co-chairman of the franchise's Board of Directors.

In her time as controlling owner Strunk has transformed the franchise through her vision, commitment and decisions that have set the team on an ascending trajectory. She hired Jon Robinson as General Manager and Mike Vrabel as Head Coach, while installing Steve Underwood first and then Burke Nihill to the position of President/CEO. Additionally, she has annually committed significant resources to upgrade Nissan Stadium and the team's practice facility, Ascension Saint Thomas Sports Park. Strunk also continues to grow the administrative staff for the franchise with significant additions across all departments.

All those changes and investments translated to success on the field as the Titans went from a three-win team in 2015, to posting six consecutive winning seasons, playoff berths in four of the last five years, a trip to the AFC Championship game in 2019, back-to-back division titles (2020, 2021) and the top seed in the AFC playoffs in 2021. It was the franchise's first division title since 2008, first consecutive division titles since 1960-62, first appearance in the AFC Championship game since 2002, and the streak of six consecutive winning seasons is the longest in the "Titans era" (1999-present).

In the spring of 2018, she collaborated with Nashville city officials to secure the 2019 NFL Draft for downtown Nashville. By any measure, the 2019 NFL Draft was the most successful in NFL history, drawing a record 600,000 fans to downtown Nashville over the three-day event and setting television ratings records. In June of 2019, Strunk was honored by the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame as the "Tennessean of the Year," for her role in bring the NFL Draft to Nashville and her work to transform the franchise into a consistent winner.

Impacting communities has been an important centerpiece of her ownership tenure. Last year, a combined $200,000 (monetary donation and in-kind aid) went to support the Waverly (Tenn.) community following devastating flooding. When a tornado struck Nashville and Middle Tennessee in 2020, Strunk stepped up to donate $1 million from the Titans Foundation to the Community Foundation of Middle Tennessee to help those affected by the disaster. In July 2019, Strunk presented $450,000 in grant funding to 10 local non-profit organizations.

One of the daughters of Titans franchise founder K.S. "Bud" Adams, Jr., Strunk was raised on football and is proud of her father's role in founding the American Football League as well as the decades of leadership he provided not only to the Titans franchise, but also to the National Football League. Her goal is to build upon that legacy and establish the Titans as one of the league's elite franchises.

An independent businesswoman for more than 30 years, Strunk is the owner and president of both Kenada Farms and the Little River Oil and Gas Company. She has been significantly involved in the family's farming and ranching businesses, including serving as the vice president of Bud Adams Ranches, Inc.

"I believe in hiring good people and letting them do their jobs," said Strunk. "Everything should revolve around what's best for the Titans and not around the owner. While I talk frequently with the leaders of the Titans as I do with all of our family's companies, the people in our football operations need the control and latitude necessary to create an exciting and competitive team.

"Our business staff needs the same freedom in order for our organization to reach its full potential and to continue to create a first-class fan experience at Nissan Stadium. Decisions will always be made based on what is the best for the team to reach our goals of becoming one of the elite franchises of the NFL and enriching the communities of Nashville and Middle Tennessee.

"Nashville is one of the most dynamic and rapidly growing cities in the nation with a very promising future," said Strunk. "We are proud to be a part of Nashville and Middle Tennessee, and we want the Titans to be a leader in providing opportunities for people and businesses in the city and the region to achieve their dreams."

In 2016, Strunk was appointed to the NFL's Hall of Fame Committee. Her appointment continues a family legacy, as her father was a long-time member of the committee. Additionally, in 2017, Strunk was named to the Board of Trustees for the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

A graduate of the University of Texas with a degree in history, Strunk is an avid horse enthusiast whose other interests include farming, ranching, tennis and a variety of other outdoor activities. She also served as a volunteer coach of both the boys and girls varsity tennis teams at her daughter's high school.

Never one to turn down a challenge, during the 2017 offseason, Strunk accepted an invitation to skydive with members of the Army's Golden Knights to kick off draft week.

Strunk is married to her husband Bill. She has three children — Tracy, Tommy, and Blanche, who are all avid sports fans and outdoor enthusiasts.

BURKE NIHILL

PRESIDENT AND CEO

Burke Nihill is in his seventh season with the Titans in 2022, and his third as the team's President and CEO. He originally joined the organization as General Counsel in 2016, was elevated to Vice President and General Counsel in 2019 and Senior Vice President – Business Operations & Chief Legal Officer in 2020.

Taking the reins in May of 2020, his first two seasons as the team President and CEO were defined by progress and change on many fronts. Among Burke's early projects was to develop a new mission statement – "Win, Serve, Entertain" - which has become a centering statement around decision-making for the franchise. The statement guides all aspects of the organization – football, ticketing, sponsorships, community impact, content creation, fan engagement, stadium management.

Burke was a central figure in the remodeling and additions to the team headquarters, Ascension Saint Thomas Sports Park. Overseeing a project that more than doubled the facility's size, the new building brought the vast majority the team's employees together under one roof for the first time, which will enhance the ability of departments to collaborate and communicate more efficiently.

Additionally, Burke has been at the forefront of the discussions with Metro Nashville government and the State of Tennessee about a re-imagined stadium along the city's East Bank.

In 2020, Burke took over as President in the middle of the COVID-19 pandemic and guided the franchise through an array of challenges. During 2020 season, the Titans were one of only 14 NFL teams to host fans for the majority of their games and it was the culmination of months of preparation to host fans safely.

In his previous roles with the team, Burke oversaw the club's legal and human resources functions and worked on club initiatives related to state and local government, company culture, and general business planning and strategy for both the Titans and Nissan Stadium. During his time with the Titans, he has participated in the negotiation of club contracts with team sponsors, media rights partners, stadium vendors, and major concert and event promoters. Burke was instrumental in Nashville's effort to secure and execute the 2019 NFL Draft.

Before joining the Titans, Burke worked in various legal and management roles across a range of industries, including technology, big-box retail, and professional services.

Burke received his bachelor's degree in Business Administration from Illinois Wesleyan University and his law degree with honors from Chicago-Kent College of Law.

Burke lives in the Nashville area, with his wife, Holly, and their three children.

JON ROBINSON

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT/GENERAL MANAGER

Jon Robinson enters his seventh season as the team's general manager. He was hired in January of 2016 and was promoted in 2017 to executive vice president/general manager.

Robinson's work in his first six years helped the team go from three wins in the season prior to his arrival to six consecutive winning seasons, earning playoff berths in four of the past five seasons, a spot in the 2019 AFC Championship Game, back-to-back AFC South division titles (2020, 2021) and the AFC's number one seed in 2021. Robinson also is the only general manger in franchise history to oversee six consecutive winning seasons. Currently, the Titans and Kansas City are the only NFL teams without a losing season from 2016 to 2021. In re-constructing the roster during his tenure with the team, Robinson has selected 52 players in the draft, engineered 29 trades, made 17 waiver claims and hundreds of free agent signings.

Leading into the 2022 season, Robinson traded a 2023 sixth-round pick for veteran wide receiver Robert Woods from the Los Angeles Rams and signed two-time Pro Bowl tight end Austin Hooper, while making a draft day trade to acquire first and third round selections from Philadelphia for wide receiver A.J. Brown. Additionally, the Titans added several offensive pieces in the draft - wide receiver Treylon Burks (first round), offensive lineman Nicholas Petit-Frere (third round), quarterback Malik Willis (third round), running back Hassan Haskins (fourth round), tight end Chig Okonkwo (fourth round) and wide receiver Kyle Philips (fifth round).

The 2021 season was one of successes and challenges, as the team captured their second division title in as many years and the best record in the AFC, while fielding an NFL-record 91 players over the course of the season. In preparing for the 2021 season, Robinson made key additions to bolster both sides of the ball by signing free agents outside linebacker Bud Dupree, defensive lineman Denico Autry and cornerback Jackrabbit Jenkins and trading for wide receiver Julio Jones. The draft saw the addition of cornerback Caleb Farley and offensive lineman Dillon Radunz in the first two rounds. In season, Robinson claimed linebacker Zach Cunningham off waivers from division rival Houston.

In 2020, Robinson assembled a team that captured the first division title (11-5 record) and hosted their first home playoff game since 2008. Tennessee did so while navigating the challenges associated with the COVID-19 pandemic. Coming off a successful 2019 campaign, Robinson locked up running back Derrick Henry and quarterback Ryan Tannehill to long-term contracts headed into the 2020 season. Those two keyed an offense that ranked second in the NFL in total offense (396.4 yards/gm) and fourth in scoring offense (30.7 points/gm). The Titans yardage total was the most in franchise history and Henry became just the eighth player in NFL history to surpass 2,000-rushing yards in a season (2,027).

In the 2019 offseason, Robinson added key veterans to bolster the roster, engineering a trade with Miami that brought Tannehill to the team, while also adding guard Rodger Saffold, wide receiver Adam Humphries and outside linebacker Cameron Wake. Robinson also was able to keep two key contributors on the roster, re-signing safety Kenny Vaccaro and punter Brett Kern. On draft day, Robinson added Mississippi State defensive lineman Jeffery Simmons in the first round and wide receiver A.J. Brown from Ole Miss in the second round.

Early in the 2018 unrestricted free agent signing period, Robinson targeted a pair of former New England Patriots: cornerback Malcolm Butler and running back Dion Lewis. During the 2018 NFL Draft, Robinson used trades to move up three times as he selected linebackers Rashaan Evans and Harold Landry.

During the 2017 offseason, Robinson used free agency to address needs on defense and special teams. Most notably, he spearheaded deals for cornerback Logan Ryan (New England), safety Johnathan Cyprien (Jacksonville) and special teams Pro Bowler Brynden Trawick (Oakland).

In the 2017 NFL Draft, Robinson spent first-round picks on wide receiver Corey Davis (fifth overall) and cornerback Adoree' Jackson (18th overall). It marked the first time the franchise had a pair of first-round draft selections since 1987. Overall, the members of the 2017 draft class combined for 76 games played and 42 starts as rookies.

In his first year as an NFL general manager, Robinson's leadership and decision-making helped the Titans triple their win total from the previous season, finishing 9-7 in 2016 after a 3-13 finish in 2015. The six-win improvement tied for the most in franchise history (1967 and 1974) and doubled the previous club benchmark for the most wins in the first year under a new general manager (three by Bum Phillips in 1975).

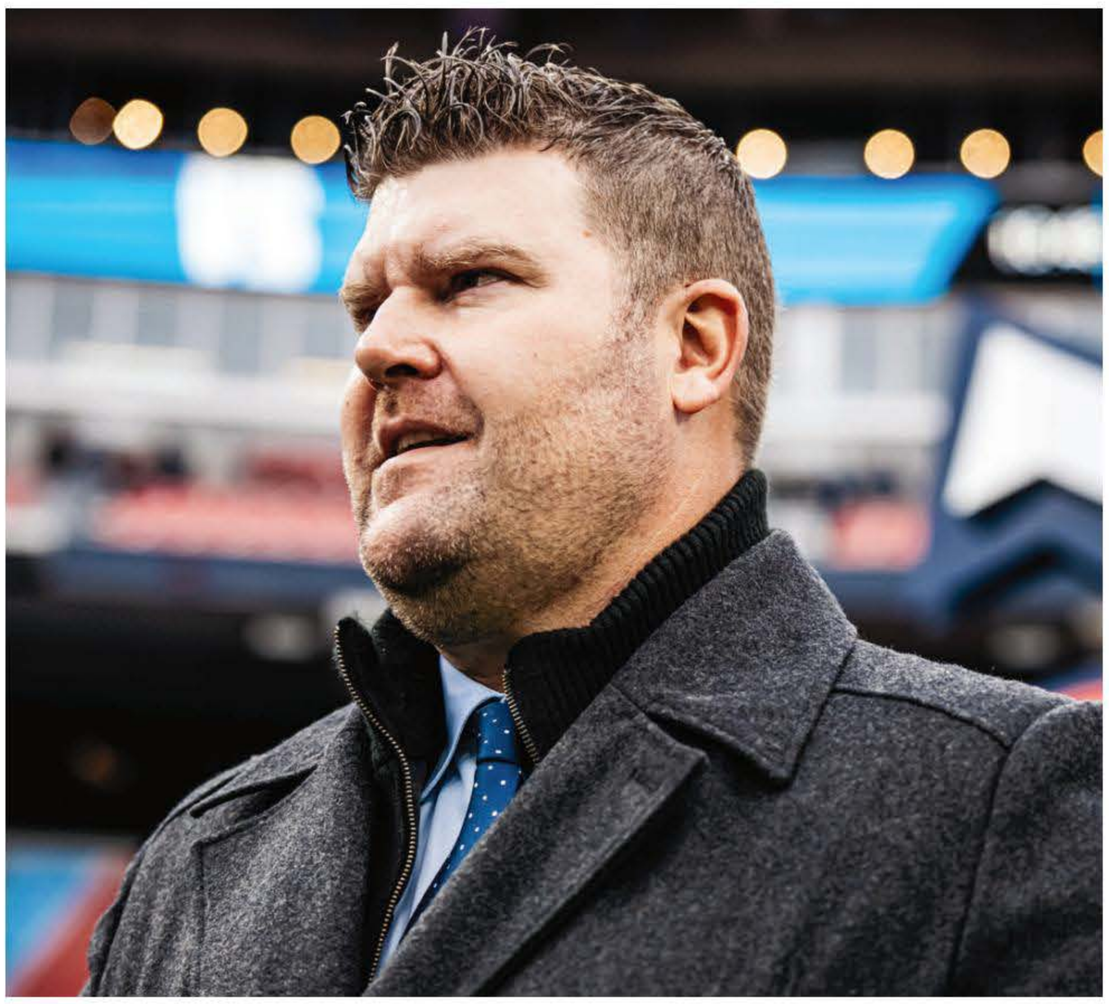
Within the first four months at his post, Robinson pulled the trigger on several key personnel decisions. On March 9, 2016, he made his first major acquisition, swapping fourth-round draft picks with the Philadelphia Eagles in exchange for running back DeMarco Murray. The trade provided major dividends in 2016, as Murray led the AFC and ranked third in the NFL with 1,287 rushing yards.

Around the same time, Robinson began to work the free agent market. Ben Jones and wide receiver Rishard Matthews highlighted the haul, and both were instrumental in helping to transform the Titans offense into the 11th-ranked unit in the NFL in 2016. Jones started all 16 games and keyed a rushing attack that ranked third in the league, while Matthews set career highs with 65 receptions (tied for the team lead), a team-high 945 receiving yards and a team-high nine touchdown receptions. The latter number tied for sixth in the NFL and tied for ninth in franchise history.

On April 14, 2016, two weeks before the NFL Draft, Robinson and the Titans dealt the first overall pick to the Los Angeles Rams in one of the biggest trades in recent NFL history. The Titans gave up the No. 1 pick and a fourth-rounder in order to receive the 15th overall pick, two second-rounders and a third-rounder in 2016, plus the Rams' first- and third-round picks in 2017. From 1990–2015, there were seven trades involving the No. 1 overall pick, but this was the first since 2004, when the San Diego Chargers selected Eli Manning with the first pick and dealt his rights to the New York Giants.

The Titans had their hands at one point or another on 17 selections in the 2016 draft due to five different trades (including one trade in 2015), and in the end, they ended up with a class of 10 players, including four of the top 45 picks. Robinson swung a draft-day trade with the Cleveland Browns to move back up to the eighth slot to choose Michigan State tackle Jack Conklin.

All 10 members of Robinson's first draft class played in at least one game in 2016. They accumulated a total of 110 games played and 38 starts, including 16 starts at right tackle by Conklin. The eighth-overall pick capped his successful rookie campaign by being named first-team All-Pro by Associated Press. Other rookies in 2016 who made significant contributions included Henry, safety Kevin Byard and fifth-round wide receiver Tajaé Sharpe. Byard earned first-team All-Pro honors and a Pro Bowl berth in his second season.



Robinson arrived in Tennessee with a wide range of experience from working his way up on the personnel side of the NFL. From 2014–2015, he served as director of player personnel for the Buccaneers and oversaw both college and pro departments as the team rebuilt its roster. The 2015 Buccaneers draft class made a significant impact, including four rookie starters: quarterback Jameis Winston, tackle Donovan Smith, guard Ali Marpet and linebacker Kwon Alexander.

Prior to joining Tampa Bay, Robinson spent 12 years with the New England Patriots, including his last five years (2009-13) as the director of college scouting. In the five years heading up their college scouting, the Patriots added a number of key components to their roster that won the Super Bowl in 2014, including wide receiver Julian Edelman, defensive back Devin McCourty, tight end Rob Gronkowski, tackle Nate Solder and defensive end Chandler Jones. He joined the Patriots as an area scout in 2002, a role he served for four seasons. Robinson then spent two years (2006-07) as a regional scout, before being promoted to assistant director of college scouting in 2008 and then director of college scouting in 2009. In his time scouting for the Patriots the team won 10 division titles, four conference titles and two Super Bowls (2003, 2004).

Robinson played three years at Southeast Missouri State as a defensive lineman after starting his college career at the Air Force Academy. Following his college career as a player, he spent one season (1998) coaching at his alma mater and three years (1999-2001) coaching at Nicholls State.

A native of Union City, Tenn., Robinson and his wife, Jaimie, have two daughters, Taylor and Bailey.

He and his wife are deeply involved in the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation (JDRF), as the disease affects their oldest daughter, Taylor. In 2018, the Robinsons chaired the JDRF Gala in Nashville which raised over $1.8 million for diabetes research.

GIL BEVERLY
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT/ CHIEF MARKETING & REVENUE OFFICER

Gil Beverly enters his fourth season with the Titans and his second as Senior Vice President/Chief Marketing & Revenue Officer. In his role, he directs Ticketing, Marketing, Corporate Partnerships and Business Intelligence. He joined the team in 2019 as team's Vice President of Brand, Marketing & Communications.

Over his first three years with the team, he has spearheaded innovation, engagement, and new ideas across all areas he oversees. The results are apparent for the organization and for the fan base.

In 2021, the Titans debuted several initiatives to engage with the local market, including a partnership with Williamson County Schools launching the first-ever interscholastic Girls Flag Football league in the state of Tennessee. Success in Williamson County led to the program expanding to Metro Nashville schools in 2022. Beverly also led a movement to offer local food selections at Nissan Stadium, introducing "Nashville Flavor," including Martin's Barbecue, Slim & Husky's Pizza and Party Fowl. The team created the first "Battle of the Bands" competition, where bands vied for a chance to play at halftime of a Titans game. All these initiatives culminated in a record attendance number for the Monday Night Football game against Buffalo.

In 2020, working with local and national health experts, the Titans were one of a handful of NFL teams to host fans for much of the season at limited capacity. The team hosted a Virtual Draft Party around the NFL Draft and launched a content series giving fans a look at players' lives away from the football field. They also debuted a brand campaign called "Tennessee Tough" that illustrated the resiliency, unity and hope of Tennessee community. The campaign featured video assets and a new downtown mural. As restrictions eased, the Titans hosted in-person 'Celebrate 615' events in tribute to the city. Highlights in marketing included a joint venture with Lipscomb University on the launch of the cartoon character "Titan Man," a series of 'Pop Up Shops' to introduce new merchandise to a younger demographic and "Titans Art Rush," an art show featuring Titans-centric photos and artwork. In ticketing, the team introduced a digital season ticket for new fans, the "Fireball Fast Pass," and a season ticket member reward program, "The 22nd Element."

Before joining the Titans, Beverly worked as VP, Partnership Solutions for Learfield IMG-College, overseeing marketing & sponsorship programs across over 200 collegiate athletics departments and other related sports properties. In doing so, he helped to create and drive partnerships with a range of Fortune 500 companies including Allstate, Nissan and State Farm.

Prior to his experience at Learfield, Beverly served as VP, College Sports Marketing for ESPN. He was involved in development of sponsorship architecture and promotional strategy around various media properties including the College Football Playoff, SEC Network, College GameDay and Tournament Challenge.

A native of Evanston, Ill., Beverly graduated from the undergraduate division of the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania. He also secured his MBA from the Warsaw Sports Marketing Center at the University of Oregon.

ADOLPHO BIRCH III
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT/BUSINESS AFFAIRS AND CHIEF LEGAL OFFICER

Adolpho Birch III is in his third season with the Titans as Senior Vice President & Chief Legal Officer. He joined the organization in 2020 after spending 23 years at the NFL's league headquarters. Birch's responsibilities include league and legal affairs, government relations, DEI efforts, community impact and the Titans Foundation.

Birch has been a catalyst for enhancing the team's Community Impact footprint and reformulating the vision of the Titans Foundation. He also has taken on a key role in the advancement of a re-imagined stadium and development along the city's East Bank, working with Metro Nashville and the State of Tennessee and leading stakeholder engagement efforts throughout the state.

As an advisor to Commissioners Paul Tagliabue and Roger Goodell, Birch held several senior-level roles during his time at NFL headquarters. Prior to leaving for the Titans, Birch served as the NFL's SVP of Labor Policy & League Affairs. He had a leading role in negotiating policies affecting the integrity of the game, including those on substances of abuse, performance-enhancing drugs, gambling and personal conduct. He also advanced the NFL's legislative, political and regulatory interests on key issues such as youth concussion laws, the league's tax status and the FCC's blackout rule. In supervising the NFL's player engagement efforts, he focused on continuing education, financial education, and clinical assistance to support player and employee off-field success. Additionally, he served on executive working groups including those related to sponsorship, legalized sports betting, media advertising policy and disaster relief.

Prior to his career with the NFL, Birch clerked for the Honorable Thomas A. Wiseman, Jr., Chief Judge of the U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Tennessee. He then worked in private practice at Fulbright & Jaworski (now Norton Rose Fulbright).

A Nashville native and graduate of Father Ryan High School, Birch attended Vanderbilt University Law School as a Patricia Roberts Harris Scholar, serving on the Editorial Board of the Vanderbilt Law Review and earning his J.D. in 1991. He gained his undergraduate degree from Harvard.

Birch is involved in many professional and philanthropic organizations, including the Vanderbilt University Board of Trust (Secretary); Sports Lawyers Association (Board of Directors); Partnership Tennessee; Partnership for Clean Competition (Board of Governors); and the Business of Sports School, New York City (Industry Advisory Board), and was named 'Best of the Bar' by the Nashville Business Journal in 2021 and 2022. In May 2021, he was elected to the Board of Directors for Ingram Industries and elected to serve as a director for the national Horseracing Integrity and Safety Authority. In 2022, he was appointed to the Tennessee Access to Justice Commission.

His father, A.A. Birch, Jr., was the first African American Chief Justice of the Tennessee Supreme Court and became the first judge to serve at every level of the Tennessee judiciary. In 2006, Nashville named its new criminal justice building after him. His mother, Dr. Janet Winifred Scott Birch, was a longtime Professor of Clinical Psychology at Meharry Medical College and active community leader.

MIKE VRABEL
HEAD COACH

Mike Vrabel is in his fifth season with the Titans after being named the 19th head coach in franchise history on Jan. 20, 2018. In February 2022, he received a contract extension from Titans controlling owner Amy Adams Strunk.

During his first four seasons in Tennessee, Vrabel led the Titans to a 43-27 overall record and three postseason appearances. He joined Jack Pardee and Jerry Glanville as the only head coaches in team annals to preside over at least three playoff squads in their initial four seasons as head coach, and he tied Pardee (43-26) for the most total wins by a head coach in his first four seasons with the organization. The Titans won back-to-back AFC South titles in 2020 and 2021, marking the first time the organization accomplished the feat since the Oilers won the first three AFL Eastern division titles from 1960 to 1962. The team had not gone to the playoffs in three consecutive seasons since a seven-year postseason stretch by the Oilers from 1987 to 1993.

Vrabel received one of the NFL's highest honors when he was named the Associated Press NFL Coach of the Year after directing the Titans to a 12-5 regular-season record in 2021. The Titans won the AFC South, and they claimed the top seed in the AFC playoff field for the first time since 2008. They did so despite needing to use 91 total players during the season—the most in NFL history in a non-strike year. From after the final preseason roster cuts through the end of the season, the team placed 26 different players on injured reserve and 21 different players on the reserve/COVID-19 list, plus additional practice squad players that received those designations.

MIKE VRABEL'S COACHING TIMELINE:

2018-22:	HEAD COACH, TENNESSEE TITANS
2017:	DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR, HOUSTON TEXANS
2014-16:	LINEBACKERS, HOUSTON TEXANS
2012-13:	DEFENSIVE LINE, OHIO STATE
2011:	LINEBACKERS, OHIO STATE

MIKE VRABEL'S PLAYING TIMELINE:

2009-10:	LINEBACKER, KANSAS CITY CHIEFS
2001-08:	LINEBACKER, NEW ENGLAND PATRIOTS
1997-2000:	LINEBACKER, PITTSBURGH STEELERS
1993-96:	DEFENSIVE END, OHIO STATE

The 2021 Titans ranked second in rushing defense (84.6 yards allowed per game), 12th in total defense (329.8), sixth on third down (36.7 percent), sixth in scoring defense (20.8 points per game) and ninth in sacks (43). Offensively, the Titans finished fifth in rushing (141.4 yards per game) despite missing Derrick Henry for nine games due to injury. The offense also ranked eighth on third down (43.6 percent), fifth in the red zone (63.9 percent) and first in goal-to-go efficiency (87.5 percent).

Situationally, Vrabel's teams fared among the NFL leaders in several categories during his first four seasons as head coach. From 2018 to 2021, their .909 winning percentage (40-4) in regular season games in which they had a fourth-quarter lead ranked second in the NFL behind the New Orleans Saints (.939). In the same time period, the Titans had a .714 winning percentage in three-point games (15-6), which led the league. Vrabel's team was 5-1 in overtime games from 2018 through 2021, tying the Saints (5-1) for the most overtime wins.

From 2018 to 2021, the Titans had the NFL's second-best rushing offense, averaging 143.7 rushing yards per game. Only the Baltimore Ravens were better (173.6). On the other side of the ball, the Titans ranked seventh in rushing defense, allowing 106.2 rushing yards per contest. Also from 2018 to 2021, the Titans tied for eighth in scoring defense (22.0 opponent points per game) and tied for the eighth-best turnover margin (+13). The Titans were called for 370 penalties from 2018 through 2021, which was the sixth-fewest total in the NFL.

In 2020, the Titans made their second consecutive playoff appearance under Vrabel. The Titans won the 2020 AFC South title with an 11-5 record in the regular season, claiming their best record and first division title since going 13-3 in 2008. They finished with a 5-1 record within the division and a 6-2 mark in road games, all while navigating the challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Titans led the NFL in 2020 with a plus-11 turnover differential. Their 23 takeaways ranked seventh in the NFL, while their 12 turnovers were the second-fewest in the league and tied for the ninth-lowest number since the NFL went to a 16-game schedule in 1978.

The Titans tied for second place in total offense (396.4 yards per game) and ranked fourth in scoring offense (30.7 points per game) in 2020. They became the first team in NFL history to generate at least 2,500 rushing yards (2,690) and 3,500 net passing yards (3,653) while surrendering 25 or fewer sacks (25). Their 6,343 total yards and 381 first downs established franchise records, while their 491 points amounted to the organization's second-best total. The Titans joined the 1997 Detroit Lions as the only teams in NFL history to feature a 2,000-yard rusher (2,027 by Henry), a 3,000-yard passer (3,819 by Ryan Tannehill) and a 1,000-yard receiver (1,075 by A.J. Brown).

In 2019, Vrabel led the franchise to the AFC Championship game for the first time since 2002, after posting his second consecutive 9-7 mark in the regular season. His 20 wins over the first two seasons were the second most in franchise history (Pardee, 21 wins) and he became the first head coach to win multiple playoff games within the first two years. The 2019 Titans became just the third team since 1990 to start the season 2-4 or worse and reach the Championship Game (2002, Titans and 1996, Jacksonville).

The 2019 squad ranked in the NFL's top 10 in scoring margin (eighth, +71), turnover margin (sixth, +6), offensive yards per play (fourth, 6.12), rushing offense (third, 138.9 yards per game), red-zone efficiency (first, 75.6 percent), total touchdowns (tied for third, 54) and third-down defense (eight, 36.3 percent). Individually, Henry led the NFL in rushing, Tannehill was the league's highest rated passer and Brown was the NFL's leading rookie receiver.

In his first season as a head coach, Vrabel guided the Titans to a 9-7 record and to within one game of a playoff berth, all while playing one of the NFL's toughest schedules. The Titans played a league-high nine games during the regular season against seven eventual playoff teams, and their four wins against playoff clubs tied for the most in the league. Only New England, the Los Angeles Rams and Carolina had as many. The Titans committed only 82 penalties in 2018. Not only was that number the best in franchise history over a 16-game season, it was the lowest total by an NFL team since 2014.

The Titans improved from having the 13th-ranked NFL defense in 2017 to an eighth-overall ranking in 2018 (333.4 yards allowed per game). They finished third in scoring defense at 18.9 points allowed per game, recording their best mark since 2008. The 2018 Titans defense also ranked second in the red zone (44.7 touchdown percentage), 10th on third down (36.6 percent), sixth in passing defense (216.9 yards per game), second in touchdowns allowed (32) and first in fourth-quarter defense (65.9 yards per game).

The 2018 Titans offense relied heavily upon a strong running attack. Averaging 126.4 rushing yards per game, the team upgraded from the NFL's 15th-ranked rushing offense the year before Vrabel arrived to the seventh-ranked rushing offense in 2018.

Vrabel ascended quickly to his position as a head coach following a 14-year playing career as a linebacker with the Pittsburgh Steelers (1997-2000), New England Patriots (2001-08) and Kansas City Chiefs (2009-10). He spent three years as an assistant coach at Ohio State (2011-13) and four years on the Houston Texans staff (2014-17), including 2017 as the defensive coordinator, before he was hired to his current post by Titans controlling owner Amy Adams Strunk.

Vrabel's accomplishments as a player included three Super Bowl wins (2001, 2003 and 2004), one Pro Bowl selection (2007) and an All-Pro honor (2007). He appeared in 206 NFL games and totaled 57 sacks, 496 tackles, 11 interceptions (one returned for a touchdown), 20 forced fumbles and nine fumble recoveries. A cerebral and versatile athlete, he also saw action as a tight end and totaled 10 touchdown receptions. Additionally, his teams advanced to the playoffs eight times (20 postseason games), with Vrabel recording eight postseason sacks and two additional postseason touchdown receptions.

Vrabel has spent his football life around accomplished leaders. After entering the NFL as a player in 1997, he played or coached under Bill Belichick, Bill Cowher, Romeo Crennel, Urban Meyer and Bill O'Brien. He gleaned attributes from each that helped form his philosophies as a head coach.

Upon arriving in Tennessee, Vrabel stated: "We want to build a culture around winning, competitiveness and toughness. Everything we do is going to be geared towards winning and being physical. We want to prepare our players so they know what to do, which will allow them to play fast and aggressive."

Vrabel likewise made his own indelible impression on the same group of coaches. Upon the trade of Vrabel from the Patriots to the Chiefs in 2009, Belichick, who coached Vrabel his entire time in New England, made this comment: "Mike Vrabel epitomizes everything a coach could seek in a professional football player: toughness, intelligence, playmaking, leadership, versatility and consistency at the highest level. Behind the scenes, Mike's wit and personality is one of the things we have all enjoyed about coming to work every day. The toughest aspect of my job is the day I stop coaching people like Mike, who did everything in his power to contribute to team success. Of all the players I have coached in my career, there is nobody I enjoyed working with more than Mike."

Vrabel joined the Titans after four seasons with O'Brien at the Houston Texans, spending the first three seasons (2014-16) coaching linebackers and one year (2017) as the team's defensive coordinator. During his time in Houston, the Texans built one of the top defenses in the NFL and experienced tremendous success as a team, earning division titles in 2015 and 2016.

In 2017, Vrabel's first year as a defensive coordinator, the Texans finished the campaign with 19 players on injured reserve. Despite the setbacks, he led the defense to the fifth-best third-down percentage in the NFL and a franchise-record 3.97 yards per carry by opponents. Houston also had 18 different players record at least half a sack and 26 players tally at least one tackle for loss.

As the Texans linebackers coach from 2014-16, Vrabel helped mold several top-notch performers within his position group, including Jadeveon Clowney, Whitney Mercilus, Benardrick McKinney and Brian Cushing. During those three seasons, the Texans defense ranked third in the NFL in yards allowed per game (319.9) and net passing yards (218.4). Houston also ranked first in third-down defense (33.6 percent), fourth in opponent completion percentage (59.5) and sixth in points allowed per game (19.8).

The 2016 Texans ranked number one in the NFL – for the first time in franchise history – in total defense, surrendering only 301.3 yards per game. The defense also gave up the fewest first downs per game (17.0) and second-fewest net passing yards per game in the league (201.6). Clowney, Mercilus and McKinney all earned second-team All-Pro honors, while Clowney was named to the Pro Bowl for the first time in his career after posting then personal bests with 52 tackles, six sacks, 16 tackles for loss and 17 quarterback hits. Mercilus led the team in sacks for the first time in his career with 7.5 quarterback takedowns and tied for the NFL lead with four defensive fumble recoveries. McKinney led the team with a then career-high 129 tackles and became the second player in franchise history with over 100 tackles and five sacks in a season.

The 2015 Texans had the top third-down defense in the NFL, allowing a 28.5 percent conversion rate, which was the lowest percentage in franchise history and the lowest by any NFL team since the 2003 Titans (27.7 percent). The 2015 defense also set a franchise mark with 45 sacks – 22.5 of which came from Vrabel's linebacking corps. The 2015 squad also finished third in the NFL in net yards per game (310.2) and net passing yards allowed per game (210.4) and tied for seventh in points allowed per game (19.6). Cushing's 110 tackles led the linebacking corps and were the third-highest mark of his career. Mercilus enjoyed the best year of his career as he set a personal high with 12 sacks.

Prior to joining the NFL coaching ranks, Vrabel transitioned immediately from an NFL player to college coach. He started as the linebacker coach at Ohio State in 2011 and coached the defensive line from 2012–2013. In 2012, the Buckeyes finished the season undefeated at 12-0, and Vrabel was named Big Ten Recruiter of the Year by ESPN.com. That same season, he coached four Ohio State defensive linemen who were either drafted into the NFL or signed free agent contracts.

Vrabel was selected by the Pittsburgh Steelers in the third round (91st overall) of the 1997 NFL Draft after playing four years at Ohio State (1993-96). With the Buckeyes, he was a dominant performer, earning back-to-back All-American honors and becoming the first two-time winner of the Big Ten Conference Defensive Lineman of the Year Award (1995 and 1996). He graduated from Ohio State with a degree in exercise science.

Joined by former Ohio State teammates Luke Fickell and Ryan Miller, Vrabel co-founded the 2nd & 7 Foundation. The non-profit's mission is "to promote reading by providing free books and positive role models to kids in need while encouraging young athletes of the community to pay it forward." Founded in 1999 in Columbus, Ohio, the 2nd & 7 Foundation now has reading programs across the country. Students receive books from the foundation's original "Hog Mollies" series.

A native of Akron, Ohio, Vrabel attended Walsh Jesuit High School. He and his wife, Jennifer, have two sons: Tyler and Carter.

TITANS HC MIKE VRABEL
NAMED AP 2021 NFL COACH OF THE YEAR

BY JIM WYATT

Titans head coach Mike Vrabel was named 2021 NFL Coach of the Year by the Associated Press.

Vrabel was recognized at the NFL Honors in Los Angeles just three days before Super Bowl LVI.

"It is an honor and a privilege to play and coach in this league," Vrabel said. "And having coached in the Pro Bowl (last week), I know our game is in good hands. My job and every coach's job is to teach, develop and to make a connection, and to make an impact.

"I want to thank our owner, Amy Adams Strunk, and I want to thank my family. I want to thank my wife Jen, I want to thank my sons Tyler and Carter. I want to thank my best friend – I want to thank (John Streicher) 'Stretch' (the team's Coordinator of Football Development). This is a reflection of our 91 players that helped us win 12 games, and our coaching staff. Thank you, and this is a pleasure."

Last January, Vrabel was also named 2021 Coach of the Year by the Professional Football Writers of America (PFWA).

Vrabel guided the Titans to a record of 12-5 during the regular season. Vrabel's Titans captured the AFC's No.1 seed for the first time since the 2008 season. The 12 wins in the regular season were the most for the franchise since 2008, when the Titans finished 13-3.

During a zoom interview after the presentation, Vrabel discussed the strong culture in Tennessee while working alongside General Manager Jon Robinson. The Titans announced earlier they'd agreed to a contract extensions with Vrabel, who was hired before the 2018 season, and Robinson, the team's GM since 2016.

"I think it is about the people that we bring in, and it is also about our leaders," Vrabel said. "Everybody talks about culture, and the thing that I tell our football team is we are going to define our culture by what we look like when we are at our worst. Because it is easy to say everybody has a great culture when you are winning. But when you go through struggles and maybe you lose a couple of games in a row, that is maybe when I take a peek and see what our culture looks like. I am excited about it because we have had adversity and we've been able to persevere through that."

Vrabel said Amy Adams Strunk "demands the best of Jon and myself, but she let's us do our jobs."

"If there's things that she wants, she will tell us, and obviously we do it," Vrabel said. "But she allows Jon and I to do our jobs, she trusts us to work through things, to have conversations about personnel, and about the direction of the team. ... She's given us the resources to continue to build meeting rooms and classrooms (at the facility) to help team our players. I can't say enough about her and her family."

Vrabel's Titans won the AFC South for the second straight season in 2021, and the organization made its third consecutive postseason appearance in his four seasons as head coach.

The Titans used 91 players during the 2021 season, an NFL record for a non-strike season.

Vrabel's overall record since taking over as coach of the Titans is 44-27, including regular season and playoffs. In 2021, Vrabel tied Jack Pardee for the most total wins by a head coach in his first four seasons with the organization. In Pardee's first four seasons as head coach from 1990 through 1993, the Oilers were 43-26, including playoffs. Of all Titans/Oilers head coaches with at least four seasons with the franchise, Vrabel's career winning percentage ranks the highest.

On several occasions, Vrabel thanked those around him.

He said coaching – and playing – is a commitment from everyone, so everyone shares in success.

"That goes for the coaching staff, and their families," Vrabel said. "And I always tell our players: Go back and look when we lost to the Jets, the number of people that texted you after that game. Because everybody texts you when you win, but nobody texts you when you lose and says, 'Hey, hang in there. You'll get them next week.' But that's what our families do, and that's what our kids do.

"So, I am always reminding that to our players: Not too many people remember you when you lose, or text you when you lose, and (the families) are in it for the long haul."

FORMER TITANS DE JEVON KEARSE INDUCTED INTO TENNESSEE SPORTS HALL OF FAME

Former Titans defensive end Jevon Kearse was inducted into the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame on July 23, 2022 during a banquet at the Omni Hotel in downtown Nashville.

"It's an awesome honor," Kearse said with a big smile. "I put my work in here in Tennessee and I feel like I deserve to be here in the Hall of Fame. Why do I deserve that? Because they told me that...

"It's always an honor to come back here to Tennessee and be involved in any capacity. It's always a good southern feel."

Also on Saturday night, former Titans head coach Jeff Fisher and Titans play-by-play man Mike Keith were recognized for their recent inductions as well.

Fisher was a part of the Hall of Fame's 2020 class, while Keith was inducted to the TSHOF in 2021.

Earlier this year, Kearse was informed in grand fashion he'd be inducted into the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame. Kearse got the news during the team's playoff fan rally at 6th and Peabody in Nashville.

"When you think of the 1999 Super Bowl season of the Tennessee Titans, few players stand out more than Jevon Kearse," said Brad Willis, Executive Director of the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame. "Jevon's play was a huge part of a Titans defense that dominated the competition for many years. As a player that started and ended his NFL career in Nashville, the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame is proud to present him with this honor."

A first-round pick of the Titans in the 1999 NFL Draft, Kearse finished his rookie season with 14.5 sacks and six forced fumbles en route to being named AP NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year.

Kearse, named to the Pro Bowl in 1999, 2000, and 2001, played for the Titans from 1999-2003 before signing with the Eagles in free agency. Kearse returned to the Titans in 2008, and he played two more seasons with the team before his retirement.

Kearse recorded 47.5 sacks from 1999-2003 with the Titans, and he added another 4.5 in his return. In his career, Kearse racked up 74 sacks, with 52 of them coming during his days with the Titans.

"Those memories from back then, I will cherish them forever," Kearse said. "It's good to be here with my Tennessee fans, and family, sharing these memories."

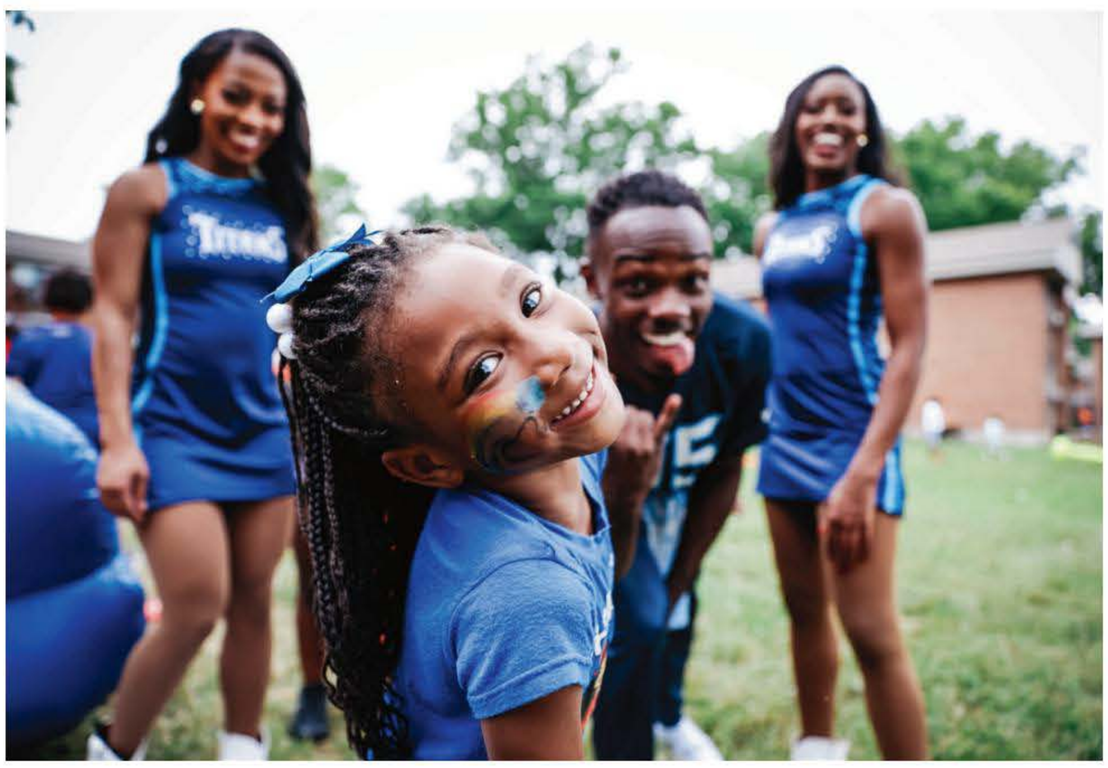
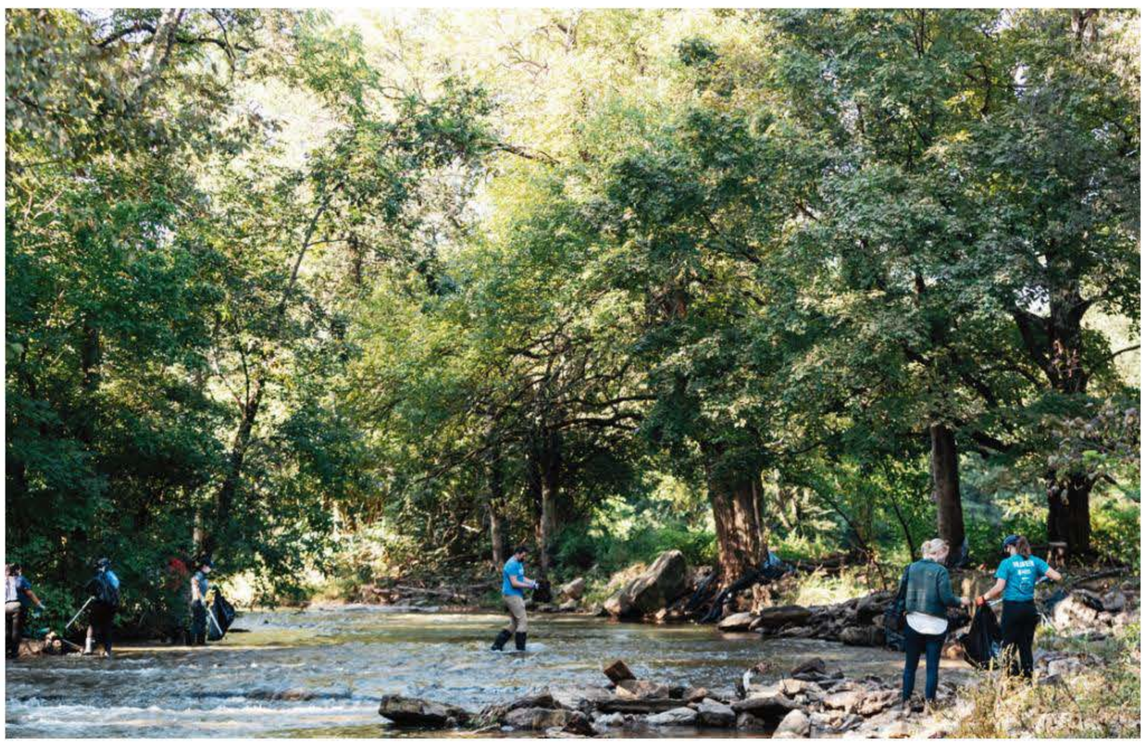
TITANS COMMUNITY MISSION

The Tennessee Titans staff have one singular mission – Win.Serve.Entertain. The service component of that mission continues to be at the heart of the organization. Several times per year, Titans employees spend time working at "All Serve"events in the community, giving back by actually dedicating time and energy to volunteerism. Most recently, the Titans partnered with Hands On Nashville to create an outdoor classroom and courtyard for students at Wright Middle School in the Glencliff community. More than 50 Titans employees volunteered their time to build a beautiful space designed for learning in the great outdoors.





TENNESSEE TITANS WALKED THE RUNWAY WITH CHILDHOOD CANCER FIGHTERS AT RALLY ON THE RUNWAY

The Rally Foundation for Childhood Cancer Research hosted its 7th Annual Crew Aviation – Rally On the Runway, presented by Bart Durham Injury Law on April 21, 2022.

Rally kids who are fighting or have fought cancer walked the runway as models sporting the latest fashions from Dillard's Green Hills. Titans Pro-Bowl Safety and Honorary Chair Kevin Byard joined other Titans players escorting kids down the runway.

"Supporting Rally Foundation throughout the year has empowered and motivated my wife, Clarke, and me to do all that we can to save kids with cancer," said Kevin Byard. "Being a part of Rally On the Runway is a big win for everyone: the players, the audience, and especially the Rally Kids who inspire us all!"

Crew Aviation was the Title Sponsor for Rally On the Runway 2022, and the event was presented by Bart Durham Injury Law. The evening included gourmet dining, silent and live auctions, and a welcome address from Honorary Chairs Clarke and Kevin Byard, as well as a message from a special Rally Kid.

The 2022 event raised more than 556,000 to support the fight against childhood cancer.

TENNESSEE TITANS COACHES, PLAYERS HOST TENNESSEE ATHLETES AT 'CAMP 59' THE TIM SHAW YOUTH FOOTBALL CAMP

In May the Tennessee Titans hosted 'Camp 59' Tim Shaw Youth Football Camp at the team's Ascension Saint Thomas Sports Park indoor practice facility. Local organizations Nashville Christian, Hendersonville Titans, Backfield in Motion and Preston Taylor Ministries attended the camp led by Titans head coach Mike Vrabel, special teams coach Craig Aukerman, general manager Jon Robinson and the full Titans coaching staff.

The camp honored former linebacker, Tim Shaw, who played three seasons with the Titans from 2010-2012. In 2014, Shaw announced he had been diagnosed with amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), and has since dedicated his life to research and discovering a cure for the disease. In 2017, Shaw released a book "Blitz Your Life: Stories from an NFL and ALS Warrior."

"This event is deeply important to the Titans organization for a multitude of reasons," said Josh Corey, Titans Director of Marketing, Youth and Community Engagement. "Not only does it benefit young athletes in our community, but it also honors a person who best personifies teamwork and selflessness – qualities Tim always aims to instill at youth football camps. The game is important, but teaching strong character is at the top of our priority list. There is nothing more rewarding than watching these kids practice with the pros as Tim provides the best example of tackling adversity."

The Tim Shaw Camp welcomed more than 120 kids from Middle Tennessee for skills and drills, agility, offensive and defensive stations led by Titans coaches, the 2022 Rookie Class, and several veteran players. Campers participated in sessions on throwing mechanics, footwork, tackling, run and drive blocking, cone and ladder drills and more. This camp marked the first of many community events the 2022 Titans Rookie Class will participate in. Tim Shaw attended the event and addressed campers with a motivational speech.

TITANS FOUNDATION DINNER RAISES $255,000 TO ASSIST THOSE IN NEED IN MIDDLE TENNESSEE COMMUNITY

FOOTBALL, COUNTRY MUSIC, AND FUNDRAISING.

The inaugural Titans Foundation Dinner had it all on Wednesday night, and it raised a whole lot of money – $255,000, to be exact.

"It's an awesome event," said Adolpho Birch III, Senior Vice President/Business Affairs and Chief Legal Officer for the Titans. "We are very proud to have as many people come out and help us celebrate the Titans, celebrate the Titans Foundation in particular, to honor and look at the upcoming season, our new draft class, and really talk Titans football. It's an amazing event ... and it really shines a light on what the Foundation can be about."

Roughly 450 fans attended the sold-out event at Nissan Stadium, which featured General Manager Jon Robinson, Head Coach Mike Vrabel, President/CEO Burke Nihill, receiver Robert Woods, and country music star Jake Owen, among others.

The Titans Foundation Dinner was hosted by "Voice of the Titans" Mike Keith, and it also included Charles Davis of NFL Network, and members of the team's rookie class.

Former Titans stars Keith Bulluck and Jevon Kearse were also there on a night when several auction items raised big money in bidding.

"(It's) great to raise money that we can give back to the community to help a lot of different areas," Robinson said. "(I'm) excited to be here with a whole lot of our fans ... and meeting and greeting and seeing the people that fill the stands on Sundays."

TENNESSEE TITANS RAISE 20,890 MEALS FOR SECOND HARVEST FOOD BANK OF MIDDLE TENNESSEE DURING WEEK-LONG FOOD DRIVE TO 'CELEBRATE 615'

The Titans Foundation and the Nashville community collectively raised 20,890 meals during its week-long food drive in honor of "615 Day," celebrated annually in Nashville on June 15. The "Celebrate 615" food drive benefited Second Harvest Food Bank of Middle Tennessee and took place from Wednesday, June 8 - Wednesday, June 15.

Participants were encouraged to bring Second Harvest Food Bank of Middle Tennessee 'most-needed' food items to six locations throughout Nashville, including MILES Auto Spa (West Nashville), Martin's Bar-B-Que Joint (Belmont), Party Fowl (Donelson), Hunters Station (East Nashville), Slim and Husky's (North Nashville) and Fifth + Broadway (Downtown).

"We are grateful to the Tennessee Titans and their contribution to Second Harvest Food Bank of Middle Tennessee. Through their efforts on 615 Day, we will be able to feed many families and individuals in Nashville," said Courtney Blaise, Director of Community Engagement for Second Harvest Food Bank of Middle Tennessee. "One in Eight Middle and West Tennesseans struggle with hunger daily, and Second Harvest of Middle Tennessee is dedicated to making an impact on that statistic. Thanks to the Titans and those who donated, we just got a little closer to that goal."

The day wrapped-up with a Titans pop-up store on the second floor of Fifth + Broadway. The store featured a retail area with '615' t-shirts, screen printing, and giveaways, as well as $6.15 happy hour specials until 6:15 p.m. CT. in the adjoining food hall.

Titans mascot T-Rac and Titans cheerleaders visited all six locations on June 15 to collect the donations, bringing giveaways, prize packs throughout the day.

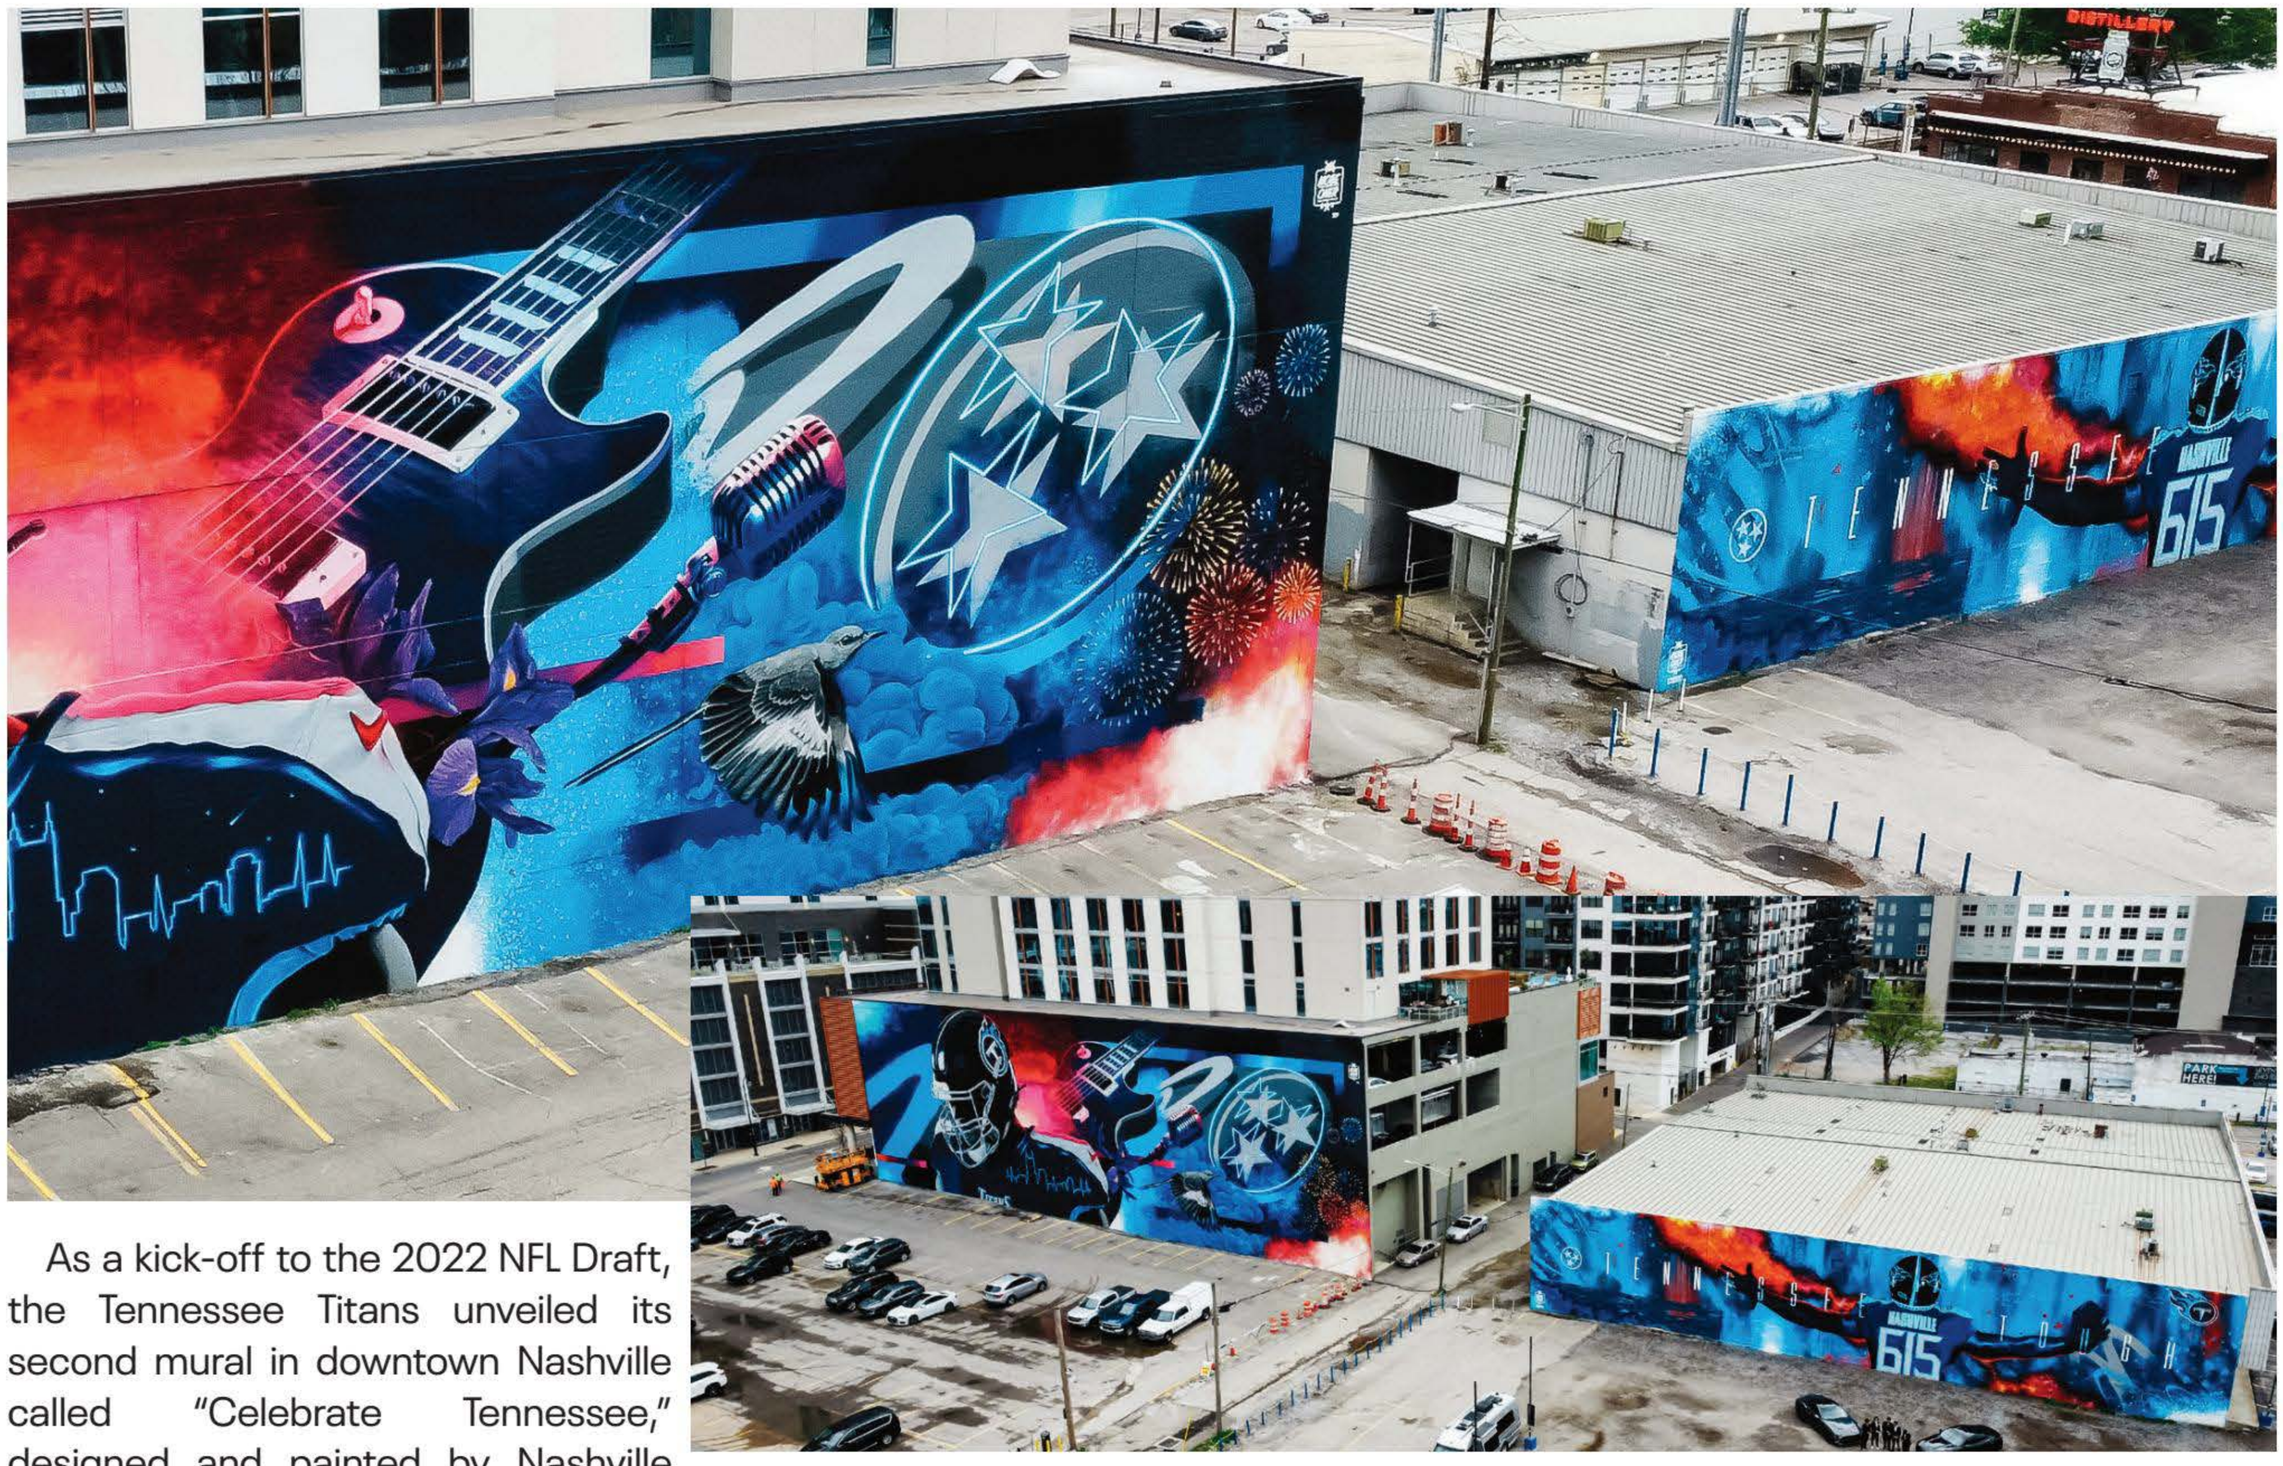
CELEBRATE TENNESSEE MURAL



As a kick-off to the 2022 NFL Draft, the Tennessee Titans unveiled its second mural in downtown Nashville called "Celebrate Tennessee," designed and painted by Nashville muralist Eric "MOBE" Bass. This mural comes as a follow-up to the "Tennessee Tough" mural painted in 2020. The design aims to celebrate Nashville and the entire state of Tennessee.

"Celebrate Tennessee" is located on the southern facing side of the Margaritaville Hotel, located at 425 Rep. John Lewis Way South. The mural spans the full wall of the building, measuring 198 feet by 55 feet, totaling just under 11,000 square-feet. This almost triples the size of the "Tennessee Tough" mural. Components of the design include:

- A football player designed to appear as if he is walking to Nissan Stadium through downtown Nashville with elements from across the state at his back, supporting him along his journey
- Statewide symbols and representations like a guitar, mockingbird, iris and Tri-Star follow behind the player
- The elements aim to represent community, music and nature, all key to the essence of the state

"This mural is a beautiful follow-up to the original 'Tennessee Tough' painting. It is meant to be a celebration of all the elements that make Nashville and the entire state of Tennessee such a special place to live, work and play," said Titans Sr. Vice President, Chief Marketing & Revenue Officer Gil Beverly. "MOBE is an incredibly talented artist who perfectly captured the place we all call home. We hope this new addition will be a Nashville-staple to be enjoyed by our community."

Bass' artwork is displayed in private residences and more public locations throughout the world. In Nashville, some of his most well-known murals include "Spaceman" in Midtown, the Nashville mylar balloons in Five Points and various murals inside The Valentine on Broadway.

"As someone who has called Nashville home for many years, painting this second mural is one of the proudest moments of my career," said MOBE "Art can truly be found anywhere, and these murals have been a labor of love dedicated to bringing the community together and reminding us of all the reasons we love this state."

The mural is on display now and will live indefinitely through the 2022-2023 Titans season.

"This art epitomizes who we are not only as state, but as a fan base – we are tough, resilient and we always have each other's back," said Titans Creative Director Surf Melendez. "The representation of the entire state intends to demonstrate we are always stronger as a team, held together by the fabric of our heritage."

The event also featured a post-workout live Q&A session with Oprea and the other trainers, as well as a delicious brunch with mimosas inside the Titans offices.

"Muscles and Mimosas has quickly become one of our favorite events, and we're thrilled that Erin Oprea was available to give us the workout of our lives again," said Kate Guerra, Titans Vice President of Marketing and Communications. "We don't often host events in what we call 'The Bubble,' our indoor practice facility, and this will also be the first time we've hosted the public at our headquarters since it was renovated. This should be a special experience for those who join us with a delicious brunch to follow."

TENNESSEE TITANS INAUGURAL ART SHOW 2021 BENEFITTING THE TITANS FOUNDATION

The Tennessee Titans Foundation hosted an opening gala to kick off its inaugural Titans Art Show in 2021. Held at trendy Wedgewood-Houston event space Saint Elle, the evening gave attendees a first look at and a chance to buy Titans-inspired artwork that included oils, photography and even painted footballs.

The party began with a VIP reception, where avid art collectors and football fans mingled with team management in an intimate environment while sipping on bubbly and cocktails. Multigenre singer Blanco Brown performed, leaving the stage at times to serenade ladies and hand them roses. In the adjoining Conservatory, guests opened the bidding on silent auction items, such as hand-painted "Tennessee Tough" cleats and a tasting for 12 from The Whiskey House.

To fuel buying and bidding, popular local eateries offered plenty of hearty fare. Guests filled up on makhani meatballs from Chaatable, poke bowls from The Hart, barbecue pork hash from Jasper's and sweets from Petit Four Girl. WithCo Cocktails mixed up their takes on classic libations, and The Whiskey House served up tastes of a wide array of, well, whiskeys to go with the food. Once the doors opened to other gala attendees, VIPs gathered in the Nfocus Suite to take advantage of the upscale bar and special gift boxes.

The successful art show ran for the two days leading up to the team's game against the Jacksonville Jaguars. Ticket proceeds went to The Titans Foundation, which contributes to area schools, nonprofits and more and also places a strong emphasis on supporting youth football programs so that every child who wants to play the sport can do so. The artwork was collected and curated by Fort Houston Artisan Support Project, a nonprofit, community-based workshop, and art sales went to support those artists.

TITANS CELEBRATE 2022 SCHEDULE RELEASE BY HONORING JEFFERSON STREET BUSINESSES

As teams across the NFL unveiled their 2022 schedules, the Tennessee Titans took a high-visibility opportunity to celebrate a historic Nashville neighborhood. The team revealed its 2022 schedule through a short film highlighting eight iconic businesses on Jefferson Street in North Nashville, the historic corridor of Nashville's African-American community. The film serves as a precursor for an all-season initiative to spotlight the businesses at each regular-season home game.

The vision was established by the Titans creative team in collaboration with Seck., a multi-hyphenate filmmaker and visual artist. Seck. has an established reputation for changing perceptions of Nashville's Black creative community, from hip-hop to filmmaking and beyond.

"Schedule Release Day is a landmark for Creative teams across the NFL, and vying for the best and most creative way to unveil your team's schedule can get fairly competitive," said Surf Melendez, Vice President and Executive Creative Director for the Titans. "Ultimately as we sat down to plan our strategy this year, we had this vision of taking our 'moment' and making it Nashville's moment. Being able to celebrate Jefferson Street in a video seen by such a large part of our fanbase is one of the most impactful schedule release videos I've ever been a part of."

In the 1940s - 60s, Jefferson Street was one of America's best-known districts of jazz and rhythm and blues, among other musical genres. Legendary musicians flocked to the neighborhood to perform at one of its many entertainment centers.

Jefferson Street also served as a southern hub for sit ins during the civil rights movement. Three historically black colleges and universities are located nearby: Fisk University, Meharry Medical College and Tennessee State University.

"We are consistently working to preserve the lineage of Nashville's 'original music row' and the legacy of Jefferson Street," said Lorenzo Washington, owner of the Jefferson Street Sound Museum. "Legends have walked this street for decades, offering some of the greatest musical traditions and historical landmarks. We are proud to partner with the Titans as we continue to grow our business and create more opportunities to tell the Jefferson Street story."

The Titans will spotlight the below Jefferson Street businesses and business owners:

THE COLLEGE CRIB URBAN GREEK & CLOTHING CO.
OWNER(S): HORTENSE PRICE JONES (PRESIDENT), TREACHERY PRICE (VICE PRESIDENT)

JEFFERSON STREET SOUND
OWNER: LORENZO WASHINGTON

NAJEAL'S HAIR STUDIO
OWNER: RENEA JONES

EG & MC COCKTAIL & TAPAS BAR
OWNER(S): CLINT GRAY, GEMAAL PRATTS, E.J. REED, & DERRICK 'MO' MOORE

WOODCUTS GALLERY & FRAMING
OWNER: NATHANIEL HARRIS

TENNESSEE TRIBUNE
OWNER(S): ROSETTA MILLER-PERRY & WANDA MILLER-BENSON

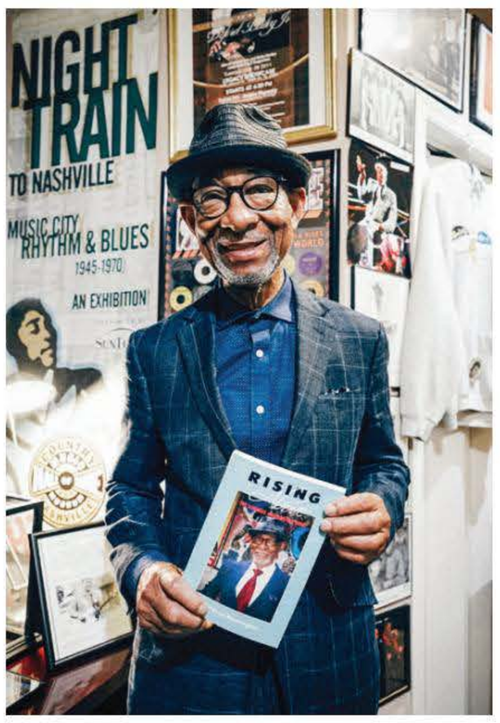
ALKEBU-LAN IMAGES
OWNER: JORDAN HARRIS

SILVER SANDS CAFÉ
OWNER: SOPHIA VAUGHN

"Jefferson Street is absolutely essential to the fabric of the African-American community and all of Nashville," said Adolpho Birch III, Senior Vice President of Business Affairs and Chief Legal Officer for the Titans. "For decades, these small business owners and others have worked diligently to maintain the character and integrity of the neighborhood and keep alive the stories of its rich history. Highlighting important touchstones like Jefferson Street and reinforcing the values of cultural diversity are deeply important to the Titans organization. We look forward to more opportunities to highlight streets and neighborhoods across the state of Tennessee."

All eight benefiting businesses were profiled in the schedule release video and will be further highlighted throughout the 2022 football season.

The Tennessee Titans and Shift4, the Official Payment Solutions Partner of the Tennessee Titans, are donating marketing efforts during the 2022 season to these Jefferson Street businesses.



DIVERSITY IN SPORTS MEDICINE

TITANS AMONG EIGHT NFL TEAMS TAKING PART IN NFL DIVERSITY IN SPORTS MEDICINE PIPELINE INITIATIVE DURING 2022 SEASON

In May, the NFL announced the launch of the NFL Diversity in Sports Medicine Pipeline Initiative, which will provide medical students at the four Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCU) medical schools with the opportunity to complete a clinical rotation with NFL club medical staff.

Students from Nashville's Meharry Medical College will be among those participating in this inaugural season, with the Titans.

Medical students interested in primary care sports medicine and/or orthopedic surgery from Charles R. Drew University of Medicine and Science, Howard University College of Medicine and Morehouse School of Medicine have also been selected to complete one-month clinical rotations with NFL clubs during the 2022 NFL season.

Two students from each school will participate in the program, joining eight participating clubs such as the Titans, Falcons, Bengals, Chargers, Rams, Giants, 49ers and Commanders.

In 2023, the program will expand to recruit students from additional academic institutions and medical disciplines and place those students with medical staffs at more NFL clubs.

"We are grateful the NFL is taking measurable steps to diversify the league and specifically recognizes the barriers to opportunity many minority students face in sports medicine career paths," said Dr. James E. K. Hildreth, president and CEO of Meharry Medical College. "Through this partnership, our students will be afforded the opportunity for exposure to a unique field of medicine that will create new meaningful experiences beneficial to their career advancement."

The NFL, together with the NFL Physicians Society (NFLPS) and the Professional Football Athletic Trainer Society (PFATS), announced the launch of the NFL Diversity in Sports Medicine Pipeline Initiative on Tuesday.

The program aims to increase and diversify the pipeline of students interested in pursuing careers in sports medicine to help make a positive impact in the field and, over time, help to diversify NFL club medical staff.

Per a release from the NFL, a study that examines diversity of the medical student population shows Black medical students comprise only 7.3 percent of the total medical school population in the U.S. – a figure that has risen less than 1 percent over the last 40 years and is far lower than the 13.4 percent Black population in the United States.

"Increasing diversity across every role in our league and at our clubs is essential. Diversity makes us stronger," said NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell. "We have an opportunity to help increase the pipeline of diverse sports medicine professionals, which is imperative for us as a league. This initiative is an example of how we can lend our platform for a societal benefit. I'm proud that our league can help inspire the next generation of sports medicine professionals."

During their rotations, students will observe and participate in the care of sports medicine patients in NFL club settings, according to a release from the NFL. Students will work directly with and under the supervision of the orthopedic team physicians, primary care team physicians and athletic trainers to gain basic medical knowledge and exposure to patient care in sports medicine. Additionally, students will become familiar with return-to-play guidelines and on-field treatment considerations for NFL players. Students may also have the opportunity to attend home games and be present on the sideline for observation. By the end of the rotation, students will understand the basic elements of all facets of care provided to NFL players from an orthopedic, primary care sports medicine and athletic training perspective.

"This unique collaboration between the HBCU Medical Schools, the NFL, NFL Physicians Society and the Professional Football Athletic Trainers Society will provide a potentially once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for students to experience, learn, and develop sports medicine skills in a real environment with world-class sports teams and sports medicine professionals," noted Dr. Lisa Barkley, the Family Medicine Department Chair at Charles Drew University of Medicine and Science in Los Angeles who also heads up the university's sports medicine program. "Developing medical professionals from traditionally underrepresented communities is an important, valuable, and notably proactive step towards addressing diversity issues across the field of sports medicine."

THE HONOR FOUNDATION "TREK" STOPPED IN NASHVILLE FOR EXECUTIVE EDUCATION AND TRAINING

The Tennessee Titans hosted 40 military veterans as part of The Honor Foundation's "TREK" through Nashville. The Honor Foundation offers career transition opportunities for U.S. Special Operators, aiming to deliver tailored executive education, one-on-one coaching, and access to an exclusive professional network. The visit to the Titans marked the Foundation's only sports team visit in the state of Tennessee.

Veterans received welcoming remarks from Titans President and CEO, Burke Nihill, followed by "Speed Dating" style networking sessions with key leaders from each of the business departments at the Tennessee Titans, including Marketing, Corporate Partnerships, Human Resources, Finance, Legal, Creative, Content and Event Production, Ticketing, IT and Stadium Events and Operations.

"Our military veterans sacrifice everything to bravely serve our country, and they deserve every opportunity to foster a career on the other side of service. By introducing this group of veterans to key members of our team, we hope to inspire and support their career growth in any field, especially sports and entertainment," said Titans Director of Youth and Community Engagement, Josh Corey. "At the Tennessee Titans we are always looking for ways to honor our service men and women, and we are humbled they stopped to see us on their Nashville TREK."

"Bringing our group to spend a day with the Tennessee Titans was incredibly valuable and rewarding. Our veteran participants were able to have one-on-one networking time with top executives from an NFL team, an opportunity they have not had before," said Ashley Brown, Director of People for The Honor Foundation Virginia Beach Campus. "Every step we take at The Honor Foundation is dedicated to preparing these outstanding men and women to continue to realize their maximum potential during and after their service career."

TENNESSEE TITANS, METRO NASHVILLE PUBLIC SCHOOLS ANNOUNCE GIRLS FLAG FOOTBALL LEAGUE

The Tennessee Titans and Metro Nashville Public Schools (MNPS) announced in June that they have partnered to bring an interscholastic girls flag football league to Nashville and Davidson County. The league is an expansion of the Titans' effort to bring girls flag football to the state of Tennessee after a successful pilot season in Williamson County during the 2021-2022 school year.

The MNPS league will take place in Spring 2023 and feature 15 schools in its first year. Schools participating and the schedule structure for the season will be announced at a later time.

"Women make up approximately half of the Titans' and NFL's fan base, and it's clear from our experience in Williamson County that young women in Tennessee are craving more ways to get engaged in the sport," said Kate Guerra, Titans Vice President of Marketing and Communications. "Throughout the NFL, we're seeing more women working in football operations and front office roles than ever before, and it's very possible we're fostering the next generation right here in our backyard. We couldn't be more thrilled to expand this league to MNPS and look forward to seeing the students out on the field."

MNPS and the Titans will collaborate with the Tennessee Secondary School Athletic Association (TSSAA) on the league as it continues to evaluate the potential to officially sanction the sport in Tennessee. TSSAA will advise in the area of game officials, championship planning, tournament format, rules interpretations, and any other areas that may be helpful in setting a framework for Girls' Flag Football to grow in Tennessee.

NFL FLAG, which has led efforts to expand women's flag football across the U.S. at the youth, high school, and collegiate levels, will also partner with the program to provide training and guidance.

"We couldn't wait to partner with the Tennessee Titans to bring girls flag football to Metro," said Mark North, Athletics Director for MNPS High Schools. "We are proud of our student-athletes and the tremendous amount of talent in our school district, and we can't wait to offer young women a new avenue to engage with football and utilize their athletic abilities. A huge thanks to the Titans organization for making this a reality."

In Spring 2022, the Titans worked with the Williamson County Sports Conference to establish the state's first-ever interscholastic girls flag football league in Williamson County's nine public schools. The inaugural season ran from March to May 2022, with Ravenwood High School earning the league championship. The WCS league will continue in 2023.

The Titans have a long-standing commitment to developing youth football across its region. Throughout the season, the team honors High School Coach of the Week and Coach of the Year recipients and hosts the Tennessee Titans Mr. Football Awards every fall. Recently, the team awarded over $350,000 in grants to youth football organizations across the state.

TENNESSEE TITANS, TENNESSEE FOOTBALL COACHES ASSOCIATION WELCOMED HUNDREDS OF HIGH SCHOOL COACHES AND COLLEGE RECRUITERS FOR ANNUAL RECRUITMENT FAIR

The Tennessee Titans, along with the Tennessee Football Coaches Association hosted its 6th Annual High School Recruiting Fair at Nissan Stadium. Over the past six years, more than 750 high school students have been given the opportunity to play football at a collegiate level.

The 2022 event welcomed more than 160 Tennessee high schools, as well as participants from 70 NCAA/NAIA colleges and universities across the 22 states.

Each year, the recruiting fair aims to provide additional exposure for high school student-athletes across the state, increasing their chances to play football at the collegiate level. Bringing these groups together allows colleges and universities with limited recruiting budgets to better evaluate the talent the state of Tennessee has to offer.

"At the Tennessee Titans we are consistently committed to engaging young athletes across the state and providing them the best possible opportunity to foster their academic and athletic careers at the collegiate level," said Josh Corey, Titans Director of Marketing, Youth and Community Engagement. "Participating in college athletics offers students a ticket to solidifying a bright future. This fair benefits players across the state, but also coaches looking for top talent in both academics and sports."

High school coaches in attendance had the opportunity to speak with the recruiters one-on-one, while displaying game film and evaluating bios, transcripts and test scores for all prospective recruits.

"One of the most rewarding parts of my job is watching student athletes succeed at the high school level and advance to pursue a college education while playing the sport they love," said Coach Matt Bates, President of the TnFCA, and Assistant Head Football Coach/Head Wrestling Coach at Hardin Valley Academy. "Partnering with the Titans on this fair gives us an opportunity to connect coaches from across the country with superior talent they otherwise may not encounter – opening doors for both players and schools."

The 6th Annual High School Football Recruiting Fair is one of many events and programs under the Tennessee Titans football outreach initiative, which is committed to addressing the needs of youth and high school football organizations across Tennessee, southern Kentucky and northern Alabama.

TITANS, THE DAIRY ALLIANCE HIT THE ROAD FOR 2022 T-RAC SCHOOL SHOWS

The Tennessee Titans, along with The Dairy Alliance hosted T-Rac School Shows in 2022. The program walked students through a variety of activities including, "Minute to Win It" games, trivia contests, and speeches from former players about healthy choices and being a successful athlete. The initiative aimed to educate students on ways to 'Fuel Up' with healthy foods and be active for 60 minutes a day.

"For 14 years, The Dairy Alliance has championed health and wellness initiatives in our communities, especially by emphasizing the importance of nutrition for children and teens," said Joan Benton, Manager of Business Development for The Dairy Alliance. "Partnering with the Tennessee Titans and T-Rac is a perfect way for us to share our message with young people and grab their attention through fun, engaging and educational programming."

Fuel Up to Play 60 (FUTP 60) is a leading national in-school health and wellness program launched by the National Football League (NFL) and National Dairy Council (NDC), which was founded by America's dairy farmers, in collaboration with the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA). It is administered in the Southeast, including Tennessee Titans market, by The Dairy Alliance.

Since its launch in 2009, more than 73,000 schools have enrolled in the program - that's three fourths of all schools in the United States - with the potential to reach more than 38 million kids. About a third of these schools are in large urban areas, where most at-risk kids reside (and have the most to gain from programs like Fuel Up to Play 60). Fuel Up to Play 60, is offered to all schools with students in grades K-12, at no cost.

The Dairy Alliance and the Titans work together to help make wellness part of the game plan in Tennessee Titans market in schools through the Play 60 campaign/Fuel Up to Play 60. The program encourages schools to make healthy changes in students' eating habits and physical activity.

"We are so thankful to The Dairy Alliance and the Tennessee Titans for hosting these exciting and informative events at our schools. Instilling the importance of a healthy lifestyle begins at a young age, and there is no better place to foster that growth than in our local schools," said Tressa Sanders, Principal at Jack Anderson Elementary School. "Our students benefit greatly from the programs that aim to promote learning and fun."

Throughout the month of March, T-Rac visited Jack Anderson, Glendale, Scales, Goodlettsville, Union and Dickson Elementary Schools, as well as Harpeth Middle School.
